Q. How quickly can I build a Web site?

A. Building a basic site, using League Easy Web's (LEW) pre-built pages, takes only an hour or two at the computer. A few Leagues have built the site and received Board approval in a few days.

Q. What is the process to build a site?

A. The "LEWMaster" needs a computer on the Internet and a browser. Once signed in to League Easy Web, you fill out a registration form with information about your League. You get a set of pre-built pages which you can modify to fit your League. Print out the pages and take them to the Board for approval.

Q. What kind of training does the LEWmaster need?

A. Our users agree LEW really is easy. You don't need to know HTML (but can use some if you know it). We have a complete Frequently Asked Question (FAQ) section that contains all the information and instructions you need to build your site by filling in the forms.

Q. Can I make a web page on any subject our League wants?

A. Yes, you can add as many pages as you want. You can replace the pre-built pages with your own.

Q. May we change the layout of the page? We'd like a different look.

A. Only certain aspects. All League Easy Web sites look generally the same, which helps establish a "branding" for our organization. We plan to modify the look this summer to be similar to the LWVUS Web site.

Q. What help do you offer if I have a question or run into a problem?

A. Our webmistress tries to answer every email message within 24 hours. She can log into your LEW sign-in area and see the same thing that you see. Her phone number is also available.

Q. We already have a Web site. Should we convert to LEW?

A. Consider it. At least 35% of +140 current LEW users converted from a conventional Web site.

Q. How much does it cost?

A. The cost currently is $160 a year with a one-time setup charge of $75. The only other cost you could incur for your site is the nominal fee to pay for the optional use of a domain name of your choice (e.g. <http://lwvyourleague.org>).

Q. What will be the Web address of our site?

A. Unless you buy your own domain name (see previous question), your Web site address will be: www.yourleague.st.lwvnet.org (where "yourleague" identifies your League and "st" is your state's two letter code).
